I will be purchasing an alternative pair from your site: Yes No

Exchanging:

If you would like to exchange for an alternative colour / size / style, please return your current pair for a refund and re-order the replacement pair online.

We do not offer a direct exchange service, as stock levels change so quickly the items requested as an exchange may well be out of stock by the time the returned article is received, which can cause unnecessary hassle and disappointment.

Re-ordering online means you will know for sure your preferred pair is in stock, plus you will receive your replacement pair more quickly, as you do not have to wait for the returned pair to reach us to place your new order.
